SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board and the Citizens of the School District of Clarksville:

Foreword

As time goes on with little apparent change in the tense political situation of the world, our attention is focused more and more upon our war potential as compared with that of the countries with a different philosophy of life. If this comparison were to be made from the standpoint of population alone, there would be grave cause for alarm. Our hope for security must lie then in an educational program in our schools of such a nature that the effectiveness of American manpower will be increased beyond that of any other nation. This means that the qualitative capabilities of our young people must be developed to the degree that they will later as adults more than compensate for any quantitative shortage in this respect.

Acknowledgment of this added responsibility of helping boys and girls to develop a competency which will stand them in good stead in case of an emergency, to the many already being carried by our schools, means that educational theory must go beyond the recognition of the importance of the problems, needs, and interests of the learner. It must help our youth to use the method of intelligence rather than of emotions when they come to grips with the many and varied social problems at different maturity levels. Assistance will need to be given in the clarification of value alternatives and in the understanding and practicing the democratic way of life. In addition it will be necessary to set up learning experiences of a type which will best meet these needs, problems and tensions of young people; which will best illuminate for them the social realities of our times; and which will help them most to think through their basic convictions.

In order to provide learning situations conducive to the development of an understanding and appreciation of the experiences had, to the extent that effective and appropriate action may result, two fundamental laws of learning are of significance. First, that material is remembered in proportion as it is meaningful, and second, that learning will last in proportion as it is made significant to the learner. With these two laws in mind, the indications are that the best learning will take place and be remembered the longest when motivation is strong, the purpose clear, and its use thoughtful. And that this learning will be effective only when concepts are used which make it possible to generalize and to standardize — so that meanings are general because they are applicable in a variety of instances in spite of their differences — and yet they are constant, uniform, and self-identical in what they refer to and are standardized known points of reference.

Teachers

For the first time in three years the same teachers have returned to work with us the second year. During this period of continued acute shortage in elementary teachers, the district is extremely fortunate in keeping veteran teachers, Mrs. Dorothy E. Blodgett and Mrs. Jenness C. Phillips, to teach Grades 5-8 and 1-4 respectively.

School Nurse

With the shortage of nurses just as serious as that of teachers, it means much to have our veteran nurse, Mrs. Ethel S. Sturgis, continue to look after the health of the school children in this supervisory union. Concrete evidence increasingly indicates that the degree of success attained in academic school work, as in physical work, is determined to a very considerable extent by the overall health status maintained by the pupil.

Building and Equipment

As a result of the great damage caused to the school building by the fire set by lightning last June, it was necessary to make extensive repairs during the summer vacation. Thanks to the prompt settlement by the insurance companies, and being able to employ experienced help to do the work, it was possible to have the building ready for occupancy at the beginning of school in September.

Although the Clarksville School Building has always been kept in a good state of repair and maintenance, it is believed that the newly decorated classrooms now provide facilities comparable to those found in any new school building. The furniture and floors have been refinished, the side walls and ceilings have been covered with new celotex planking and squares respectively, new fluorescent lights and window shades have been installed, and the casings, doors and trim have been newly painted. Also, the windows have been completely done over with new glass added throughout. Outside the wall was repaired where the fire burned through, and the badly damaged roof was replaced where needed and completely covered with new paper shingles.

In order that a knowledge of the cost of the work done and of the materials used in making the repairs necessitated by the fire may be had, a breakdown of the various expenses is printed on subsequent pages in this report.

Enrollment and Attendance

The enrollment at the time of this writing is the same as for last year, namely, 34. The average percentage of attendance for the past year was 92.68 for Grades 1-4, and 92.75 for Grades 5-8, while for the same groups the average number of tardinesses per pupil was .20 and .12 respectively.

The number of tuition pupils attending high school outside the district has decreased. In contrast to 8 pupils last year there are only 4 who are now attending these secondary schools. A breakdown of this number with respective schools attended shows 3 at Pittsburg High School and 1 at Canaan High School.

Notes on the Budget

The budget and requested appropriation of the School Board for 1953-54 is $10,728 as compared to $10,321 for the current school year. For the most part provision for increase in salaries, health and insurance explain the increase in the budget.

Miscellaneous

With constant watch kept of the general health of the pupils through periodic examination and follow-up work where necessary, attention is given to that very important phase of the pupil's school life, namely, his or her physical welfare.

Much credit is due the parents and teachers for their interest and help in serving hot lunches again this year. The benefits derived from this lunch program are conclusive to good health and better school attendance and work.

The new playground equipment means much to the boys and girls during the noon and recess periods. It is now possible for more children to take part simultaneously in different recreational activities.

With a new governor and legislature, and with possible changes being made in both the formula and adjusted valuations of real estate plus steadily increasing enrollments, the amount of state financial aid to education to be distributed to the individual school districts for the next two years is very uncertain.

Conclusion

Again, I wish to express my sincere and deep appreciation to the members of the School Board, parents, teachers and citizens for all the help and co-operation received in our work together to keep the standards in our schools high.

Respectfully submitted,

ERNEST B. DANA,

Superintendent of Schools
